

We are going to be learning about British Values - the things that are important for living in modern Britain

Let's play a game of 'Put your hand up if.....'

Put your hand up if.....

- You have brown hair
- Wear glasses
- Have a brother or sister
- Play a sport outside school
- Can speak another language
- You go to Scouts
- Born in this country
- Know what you want to be when you're older

What do all these things have in common?

They make up our identity!

What you value also makes up part of who you are.

I'm going to show you some words on the board - if you think that thing is important to you, if it is something you value, then give me a thumbs up - if not, it's thumbs down.

The background of the slide features a series of diagonal brushstrokes in red and blue, creating a textured, artistic effect. The strokes are layered and vary in opacity, giving the background a sense of depth and movement.

British Values

- democracy
- the rule of law
- individual liberty
- mutual respect
- tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

• Democracy

Britain is a democracy - this means that the people in Britain vote for the people who make the laws and decide how the country is run. If we didn't have a democracy, just one person might be able to make all the laws and that would not be fair.

- The rule of the law

In Britain we have a police force who make sure people do not do the wrong thing and break the law - this means that we are safe.

- Individual Liberty

In Britain, as long as we do not break the law, we can live as we choose to and have our own opinions about things.

We are going to be learning about
British values

- Mutual Respect

We might not always agree with other people, but we try to show respect for their thoughts and feelings.

We can give respect to others and we can expect other people to show us respect.

- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

In Britain we accept that other people might have different beliefs than ours and they may believe in different religions.

Take a moment to think about how lucky we are to live in Britain, a country with such strong values.
